FROM MONTANA

From the Montana Press of the 2d inst., we have the following:

GOOD WORK.

Mr Hendry of quartz mill fame, called to see us and from him we ascertain that his mill on Grizzly gulch, in Elgerton county, running eighteen stamps cleaned up for the six days ending January 22d, from one hundred and forty six tons of second class Whitlach Union ore, $4 626. This is the largest number of tons ever run through any mill in the Territory in the same length of time, with the same number of stamps. This is one of Mr Hendry's manufactured mills superintended by himself and the result is another evidence of his title to the reputation of being a successful mill man. This mill is run at an expense of less than two hundred dollars per week, and made on this run a clear saving of three hundred and twenty dollars per diem. Mr H has gone to the Hot Springs district for the purpose of putting in the Clarke & Upton mill twelve of his stamps in place of the Gardner crusher and Howell universer, which they have been using, and both of which have proven failures. It is estimated that the alteration will be completed in thirty five days, when this other wise good mill will no doubt make handsome returns to the owners.

"GONE TO HIS DEATH."

We have the rumor from a perfectly reliable source that George Rosenbaum, who was whipped and banished from this place by the Vigilantes, during the last autumn was hanged in Nevada a day or two ago. The telegram gives no particulars, but it is presumed that the Vigilantes did the good work as we have seen no mention of his arrest or trial in any of our exchanges. Rosenbaum was a notorious scoundrel, and the world is well rid of him.

BELENA MATTERS—GOLD DUST SHIPMENTS.

We are indebted to Mr J. L. Street, the gentlemanly agent of Wells, Fargo & Co's express in this city, for the following figures of the amount of gold dust shipped over their line from August 11, 1866, to January 25 1867. During that time there was shipped to Virginia City, M. T., $91,098 43; to the East, $477,492 25; to the West, $25,825 30; and to Salt Lake City, $137,357 28, making a grand total of $640,675 86. The foregoing figures represent, as a general thing, the coin value of the dust, and to get at its real value we think that at least ten per cent ought to be added, which would make $704,743 33. The highest and lowest shipments were to the East, $41 751 90, and to Salt Lake, $14 82. But the above total falls measurably short of the actual amount which passed over the line; and were we to multiply the above sum by six, we think we obtain a fair approximation of the amount that went in care of passengers. This would make $4,227,359 99, and would probably not be far wrong. Of the vast amount which went down the Missouri, no correct estimate can be made. There was at one time escorted from this place to Benton, 4 500 pounds of gold dust, making the snug sum of $972,000, while one party is said to have started from here with $200 000, and another with $500,000. We certainly, therefore, are not overstepping the limits of credibility when we say that over $5,000,000 went by the river. Placing it at that sum, we have thus a total of nearly ten millions, which has been shipped from this city and the surrounding districts during the past year. Will somebody figure on the balance of the Territory?

ANOTHER FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY.

The usual quiet of that portion of Oro Fino gulch known as Roosvelt, about four miles from this city, at the point where the National Mining and Exploring Company is located, was rudely broken on last Wednesday morning by one of the most sickening and heart rending shooting affairs that generally falls to the lot of the journalist to chronicle. The affray took place between eight and nine o'clock in the morning, and resulted in the severe wounding of Professor Hodge, his son, Mr. Russell Hodge, and a man named George Moore. The reception of the news here created a profound sensation among all classes, and our reporter immediately proceeded to the scene of calamity to glean such facts in regard to the occurrence as would enable us to lay before our readers a statement that could be relied upon. It appears, from what he could gather from various parties, that the circumstances of the case are about as follows. Professor Hodge is the agent and general superintendent of the National Mining and Exploring Company of New York, having charge of the company's mill and property, situated in Oro Fino and Grizzly gulches, and as such had bought, shortly after his arrival here, a timber ranch for the purpose of supplying his various works over which there had been some dispute, and the case was in the courts for adjudication. Up to the present time there has been no trouble about the matter, and probably would not but for the hasty action of both parties. What led to the affray, however, was the fact that Moore and some others had cut down some trees on what Hodge considered to be his ground, but which the others denied his right to claim under any circumstances. Moore lived in a cabin close by, and the wood had been cut up into lengths preparatory to being either used or hauled away. On the fatal morning, the Professor took two or three teams and, accompanied by his son and several others, proceeded to where the wood was and commenced to load up. Either anticipating trouble, or for the purpose of scaring the other party the Professor and his son, together with one other of their party, were armed the former with a double-barrelled shot gun, and the two latter with revolvers, we believe, carbines. While in the act of loading, Moore and another man came up to them and told them to desist, and the latter got on one of the loads and commenced to pitch it off, and while in the act the Professor hit him on the head with his gun. The accounts of what transpired after this, are somewhat conflicting, but it evidently appears that some high words ensued between Hodge and Moore while they were standing close together, and that the former pointed his gun at the breast of the latter, who shoved it away, saying as he retreated some distance, "Don't shoot me." But a minute or two transpired after this when they both fired simultaneously at each other, with almost fatal effect, the Professor being wounded in the center of the breast, and Moore having six large buckshot in a semicircle from an inch to half an inch apart, around the region of his heart. It must have been at this juncture that Russell Hodge participated in the proceedings in defense of his father for almost immediately after there were two more shots fired, one by young Hodge and the other by Moore, both likewise taking effect, the ball from the former's carbine lodging in Moore's groin, while the ball from the latter's pistol shattered Russell's wrist fearfully. The wounded men were taken to their respective cabins, which are but a short distance apart and surgical aid was summoned immediately from the city, when Drs. Glick and Maupin repaired in haste to the scene, and done everything in their power for the relief of the sufferers.

It was not until the afternoon that the Professor and his son had so far recovered from the shock to their nervous systems as to enable the doctors to fully examine the nature of their wounds. On probing the Professor's wound the ball could not be found and the supposition was that it had passed through the sternum and ranged upward toward the right shoulder. In the case of Russell Hodge he was put under the influence of chloroform and a consultation had between the attendant physicians, who came to the conclusion that his arm would have to be amputated about midway to the elbow. The operation was performed by Drs. Glick and Maupin assisted by Drs. Judd and ——. The young fellow exhibited a nerve and fortitude that under the circumstances were really surprising and which elicited the admiration of the professional gentlemen in attendance. His greatest concern appeared to be the effect it would have upon his father. In the case of Mr. Moore nothing could be attempted, except the administering of such medicines as would have a tendency to relieve his intense pain. Both he and Professor Hodge are in a very critical condition, and the chances are against their recovery.

M. M. Levin and Isaac Peixere have given as is their custom at this season of the year, 30,000 bread tickets, each for a two pound loaf, for distribution among the poor of Paris.

The population of Cincinnati is 193,440 of Cleveland, 57,297 of Columbus, 24 299 of Dayton, 20,152, of Toledo, 17 083, of Springfield, 11,414, of Steubenville, 8,489.

Congress and the Supreme Court

The great revolution decreed by the sovereign people of the United States in the suppression of the late so called Southern Confederacy by force of arms is not yet accomplished. To make it good to fix it in the supreme law of the land and in the administration of our political affairs national and local, much yet remains to be done. Against the consummation of this work recent events have disclosed a formidable barrier in the Supreme Court at Washington, as it now stands, a relic of the past still adhering to those old pernicious notions of national subordination to State rights and the divinity of slavery which culminated in the Dred Scott decision and went down to the bottom of the sea with all the other wrecks of the rebellion. From present indications therefore, the controlling issue for the next Presidency will be between this relic of the past this barrier to any further progress and its supporters on the one side, and Congress, the Union army and navy, and the great Union party of the war on the other side. The result will assuredly be as decisive in favor of Congressional reconstruction as the late contest has been before the people between Congress and the President, but the other fight must be made to clear the track. Between Congress and the Supreme Court, as between Congress and the President, the issue will have to be settled by the sovereign people.

The Supreme Court has resumed its interpretations of the Constitution where they were left off under Taney and Buchanan. It goes behind the war to give us the Constitution and State rights as they were preached by Jefferson under the inspirations of the Jacobin French republic, as they were agitated by Calhoun to the verge of the overt act of treason, and as they were carried into practice by half a million of his armed disciples in their late bloody conspiracy against the Union. On the other hand Congress has assumed to act upon the theory that the Constitution as expounded by Judge Taney is no longer the Constitution of the United States, and that State rights, as preached by Calhoun and put into practice by Jeff Davis, have been swept away with the rebellion. Shall the opinions of a bare majority of these nine old superannuated politicians of the Supreme Court, left to the country as the legacy of the old defunct Southern slaveholding oligarchy, prevail, or shall these old marplots make way for the will of the sovereign people and the National Constitution as expounded by Washington and Hamilton, and as established by a million of Union bayonets in a four years' civil war? This is the great question for 1868.

In this contest we take our position by the side of Congress—the law making power, the sovereign controlling department of the national government, upon which all other departments are dependent and to which they are all subordinate. President, supreme judges, every officer of the government of every department may be impeached and removed by Congress, but Congress itself cannot be touched except by the sovereign people. It is not improbable, however, that presuming too far upon their judicial functions, the old Bourbons and thoroughly Calhounized judges of the present Supreme Court may thrust themselves between Congress and the pending constitutional amendment. In fact they have done so to some extent already in their late Milligan decision. What then? Why then, what with the old sing song of the constitution and State rights, resumed by Northern copperheads, and what with the clamor of Wendell Phillips running to the opposite extremes, including a hue and cry for the President's impeachment, it is manifest that there must be a dead lock in this Southern work of reconstruction, which will necessarily have to be removed by the sovereign people in the election of our next President.

How will parties stand in this next conflict? Substantially as they stood in the late September, October and November elections. The Union party of the war, the party of Congress and of Southern reconstruction will carry the country. No side issues in all the mighty North will be permitted to shake the solid front of the sovereign people. Congress and the war will still be sustained by them, and the President elected in 1868, cordially co operating with Congress in 1866, will speedily brush away the old State rights obstructions of the Supreme Court. Thus, with the Court and the Executive in perfect harmony with Congress, the work of reconstruction will rapidly be made complete, consistent with the new dispensation, and solid and enduring. Accordingly let Congress so shape its course as to make the great issue for the next Presidency a reconstruction of the Supreme Court, and any respectable reconstruction ticket will sweep the field. We are as well convinced of this as that the great Union party of the war is fixed and will stand inflexible in its resolution to prove to the world that its war for the Union has not been a failure.—*N. REMARKABLE HISTORICAL DISCOVERY.—Samuel de Chaplain, the noble founder of Canada, was buried at Quebec two hundred and thirty years ago, and the place of his interment has remained a mystery, though it appears by the records of the time that a tomb was constructed for him in a chapel which was known by his name. This mystery has just been solved by the indefatigable research of two ecclesiastics of Quebec the Abbes Laverdiere and Casgrain, both of whom are well known as accomplished and able investigators of Canadian history. A most patient and persistent sifting of ancient records brought them to the conclusion that the chapel and tomb must have been in the lower town of Quebec, at a certain point immediately under the precipice on which the upper town is built. Accordingly, they went to the spot in question and found that the aqueduct constructed some ten years ago, had apparently destroyed all traces of the supposed tomb, the chapel which contained it having long since disappeared.

Those familiar with Quebec will remember the long stairway which descends from Mountain street to Champlain street. Near the foot of these stairs was the spot which the two archæologists had been led to believe was the site of the tomb. It only remained to inquire of those engaged in building the aqueduct whether any such remains had been discovered in the progress of the work. They went to Mr. O'Donnell, Assistant Engineer of the Water Works, who had superintended this part of the structure. He replied promptly that an ancient vaulted tomb had been found at the place in question, containing a coffin of human bones, and that he was so much struck with the character of the discovery that he had included a section of the vault with measurements and other indications concerning it, in one of his plans. The plan he found and produced. He conducted MM. Lavordiere and Casgrain to the place and showed them what was still to be seen of the old vault, within which a new one, for the purpose of the aqueduct, had been made nearly obliterating the inscription on the wall, where, however, some of the letters of Champlain's name may still be distinguished.

The bones had been removed immediately after the vault was discovered, and Mr. O'Donnel could not tell what had become of them. It appeared, on further inquiry, that they had been given to Abbe Langevin, the priest of a neighboring parish well known in Canada as the author of several antiquarian and historical publications. He had placed them in a box and kept them for some time, but afterwards caused them to be buried, still in the box, in the Roman Catholic cemetery for unbaptised infants. He directed the spot to be marked, but this it seems was neglected, for when we last heard from Quebec the box had not yet been found, though an attempt to that end had been made. There can be no doubt that the bones will soon be recovered and that the remains of the founder of Canada will be honored with a monument worthy of him.—Boston Transcript.

HEALTH OF THE POPE.—A writer says: With an escort of Papal Dragoons and followed by several carriages, the Pope drove recently through the heart of Rome to pay a visit to the old adulated king of Bavaria. His Holiness looks in good case, tranquil of spirit and full of health. In a few months he will complete the seventy fifth year of his age, and the twenty first of his reign. So that, the Romans say, he cannot have more than four years to live, for no Pope has completed a reign of twenty five years. Pius IX, however, who is of a long lived family and who has still an elder brother alive, looks hale enough to break through the rule, and put himself, in that respect, on a par with Saint Peter, who reached a ripe old age before his martyrdom.

It is a sad commentary upon the prosperity and "fast" habits of the last few years in America, that since 1850 nearly all our State penitentiaries have doubled the number of their inmates.

Address of Senator Trumbull to the Illinois Legislature

The Illinois Assembly on the 16th of January, appointed a committee to wait upon Hon Lyman Trumbull, to inform him of his re election as United States Senator, and invite him to address them. In compliance Senator Trumbull appeared and thanked them for their renewed mark of confidence in electing him for the third time to the Senate. In the course of his remarks he says:

Some misapprehension exists in regard to the Civil Rights bill. That bill is not made up of "glittering generalities," but was intended as a practical measure for the protection in equal rights of every human being in the land, no matter from what quarter of the globe he or his ancestors may have come or what color may have been stamped on his face by a fair pencil or an African one. The words declaring all persons of African descent, born in the United States to be citizens" constitutes neither the soul nor the body of the bill, nor are they any part of it as enacted by law. The amendment was not acceptable to the Senate in that form and it had to be withdrawn the next day and a substitute offered, which now constitutes part of the act.

The bill as introduced was complete, abolishing all discrimination between the inhabitants of the United States on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, and securing to all alike the equal benefit of all laws for the protection of persons or property, and subjecting all to the same punishment and none other, for like offenses. The insertion in the first section of the word "citizen" did not in the least alter the legal effect of this section. All the rights belonging to the citizen were secured to any inhabitant of the land by the terms of the first section as originally introduced, and which at that time and now constitute the vital part of the bill. In discussing the first section, I treated it, and not the words declaring "persons of African descent born in the United States to be citizens," as the essence of the bill. It was the generally received opinion that after the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery all native born persons were citizens. If not citizens what were they? But this being as it not, the effect of the civil rights bill would be the same whether the word citizen were in it or not, as without that word every inhabitant of the land had secured to him all the rights pertaining to citizenship. The words declaring "all persons born in the United States, and not subject to any foreign Power, to be citizens," were only declaratory of what the law already was. The only thing I have to regret in regard to this act is that we have not a President who is disposed faithfully and efficiently to execute its provisions. I shall not, on the present occasion, undertake to indicate my future in

New Version of an Old Story

Reports have been in circulation for a considerable time of the intention of the United States to purchase various islands in different quarters of the globe for naval stations Negotiations were reported to be in progress for the acquisition of sundry islands in the Mediterranean Two or three years ago the subject began to be talked of First we were going to have an island in the Ægean for the convenience of our trade with the Orient next it was reported that we were going to purchase Melos and finally it was decided that we should have Minoren But as none of these purchases have been made, the disappointed quid nuncs who reported them have turned to a new field After all, it was not in the Mediterranean that we were intending to buy naval stations, but in the West Indies Fred Seward, son of the Secretary of State, has just returned from a trip to those islands, and it is indisputably necessary that some reason should be assigned for his voyage Accordingly it is again confidently asserted that our Government has once more gone into the business of buying islands,—having transferred its operations from the Eastern Archipelago to the Great Antilles A few days ago we were going to have St Thomas But the reporters of these transactions suddenly gave up that idea, probably because they thought that island too diminutive for a great nation like ours, and now declare that St Domingo is the property which our Government is purposed to buy Fred. Seward had the ready money with him, so the story goes, but some rascally sailors stole it, and now we shall not get the Island These sailors certainly have made a very large haul As the trade of St Domingo amounts to $10 000 000 or $15,000,000 per annum, and as the island is the second in size in the West Indian group, being more than half as large as the State of Illinois it would probably require a considerable sum of money to pay for it Therefore, those ravenals who got the money bags made a very good thing

It begins to look as if these stories about the purchase of naval stations by our Government, were growing rather too stale for further circulation. The sharp reporters should try their wits on something else This is decidedly overworn Repetition "stales its variety"

Victors and Vanquished.

"History furnishes few examples of a people who have been required to concede more to the will of their conquerors than the people of the South."

So said Governor Orr of South Carolina in a recent speech. So say the Northern political allies of the late rebels, every day. Is the assertion true?

The proposition is easy demonstrable that no people have ever been required to concede so little to their conquerors Who can show a single example where a people have been so completely subdued, and yet dealt with so leniently? What great rebellion was ever put down, and so little punishment afterwards inflicted on individual offenders, and so little indemnity exacted from the people at large? Or what independent nation was ever humbled which was not compelled by its conquerors to concede more than any one has ever thought of demanding of the Southern rebels?

When other nations quell rebellions, they levy the cost of the war on the insurgents Nor do they stop here The leaders invariably go to the gibbet or into exile. When one independent nation conquers another, the victor compels the vanquished to pay the cost of the war. Napoleon made every nation on the continent of Europe reimburse France for the expense she incurred in bringing them under subjection In 1866 Prussia compelled Austria to pay the whole cost of the war by which the power of the latter was broken

In the United States not a dollar of the property of the late insurgents has been confiscated Not one of the offenders has been brought to punishment, or even put on trial No personal right that they possessed before the rebellion is now denied them. Thus far, the Southern people have conceded nothing whatever to the conquerors and it is because they refuse to make certain small concessions to the just and moderate demands of loyalty, that certain political rights are still withheld from them

A PARALLEL THAT IS IN NOT A PARALLEL.—The following from the Boston Post is circulating pretty widely through the Copperhead press

If the rebellion of Shays in Massachusetts, and of the Whisky people in Pennsylvania, had been punished as is now proposed to punish the rebels of the South, both Massachusetts and Pennsylvania might now be mere Territories in lieu of States

This is exactly of a piece with most of the Copperhead logic of the day. The followers of Shays in Massachusetts did not get possession of the government of that State and turn it against the Government of the Union. Nor did the Whisky people of Pennsylvania overthrow their State government In neither case did the State authorities assume an attitude of hostility to the Government of the United States. But in the South, States were dragged into rebellion The Copperhead theory is that they went in as States, and that their people, therefore, are not individually responsible for their acts The governments of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania remained loyal while rebellion was raging in those States, in the South, the State governments all became disloyal The attempt to institute a parallel like that stated in the above extract, is a very lame one.

ANOTHER ATLANTIC CABLE.—An English journal says "The success of the Atlantic Telegraph has led to the revival of several schemes for establishing telegraphic communication by other routes. Arrangements are nearly completed for commencing at once the manufacture, at Liverpool, of the cable intended to be laid for the North Atlantic route, by way of Iceland and Greenland The prospectus of the new company will it is said, be issued immediately" This is only the beginning In a few years there will probably be a sufficient number of deep sea cables in operation to supply all demands and to make communication between Europe and the United States as certain and as cheap as by land lines

Hon. Almon Case, member of the State Senate of Tennessee, was lately brutally murdered near his home by one of the "reconstructed rebels of that State He was an unflinching Union man, and was murdered because of his Union sentiments His son was assassinated in like manner a few months ago All accounts show that murders like these are of daily occurrence in the South.

The Herald says "If the Radicals in Congress had been half as much devoted to the Union or half as patriotic as Robert E Lee or Alexander H Stephens, there would have been no secession and no civil war" Now only suppose that some body should read this who might happen to believe it!

WASHINGTON Feb 2 —The Senate yesterday after a debate lasting three days by a vote of yeas 27 nays 19 refused to agree to the report of the committee of conference on the Army Appropriation Bill The original clause in the section relating to the General Staff at 5 o'clock when the amendment of Mr Chandler was taken up Wilson of Iowa moved to lay it on the table so as to present the whole question including, in fact, the Constitutional Amendment proceeded by the pending Constitutional Amendment

Bills of Maine moved the previous question when the Democrats began to call Buckalew Hendricks of Wisconsin now in to talk the bill Negatived—ayes 35 nays 10 Several amendments were

The Senate then went into executive session when the House bill Bills would have come before it but adjourned at 11 o'clock Thursday the House adjourned

In the House letters pass any reconstructing bill that the President may sign satisfactorily to himself This reflects partially the mind of action on reconstruction by the 39th Congress

During the evening the Senate passed the following bills As to bonds for conveyance to purchasers of land in New Mexico A bill giving $400 to drafted men who found substitutes and were again drafted The bill increasing the pay of army officers below the rank of Major General during from the 1st of July, 1866, and for nine years after three years A bill to increase the pay of private soldiers.

In the House before the reconstruction in regular order Banks of Ohio reported a bill for constructing a bridge at Lewiston with a draw

The Speaker presented a resolution relative to the settlement of the Pacific Railroad

Baker of Pennsylvania called up the Senate bill funding compound interest notes After debate the bill was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency which the Speaker remarked would kill it the session

The Ways and Means Committee will to-day submit to this session the Tax Bill reported by the last Congress

Wilson of Iowa inquired of Hooper of Massachusetts when the Ways and Means Committee would ask the order of the House to report a bill to prohibit the Secretary of the Treasury from withdrawing legal tenders Hooper was proceeding to reply that the committee had been busy on the tariff bill and would consider the offer matter to-morrow when the House was reminded of order

The debate on the army appropriation bill was continued by Schenck of Indiana and others, who denounced the secret rebellion to the General in Chief as a trick to destroy the President by making it unfit to longer to exercise the executive functions and with ease Grant Little else was said in this debate the members being engaged in canvassing on reconstruction

Another meeting to form an Immigration Aid Society is to be held on Tuesday next

B F Dowell, of the Jacksonville Sentinel, is now in Washington. He has written a long letter to his paper on the political situation, in the course of which he refers to Stevens' Military bill, and quotes some remarks by Mr Maynard, of Tennessee, thereon The annexed is the extract from Maynard's speech, followed by Mr Dowell's comments

'In regard to Tennessee that, so far as her treatment of the black portion of her population and of the late rebel population is concerned also has been entirely impartial that is to say, she gives to the freedmen and to the late rebels alike the enjoyment of all civil rights, and denies them only the right to vote to hold office, and to serve on juries The probability is, however, that she will very soon adopt the principle that this Congress has already adopted in reference to this District—not of universal suffrage, not of negro suffrage, not of impartial suffrage, but of loyal suffrage, giving the right to vote to all who have shown their loyalty to this Government, irrespective of race or color

This is the true principle of Republican government Let all loyal citizens vote without regard to race or color It was the principle of our forefathers At the time of the formation of our national Constitution, only South Carolina, out of the whole thirteen States prohibited negro suffrage From the best information I can gather, it is evident to my mind that the negroes and loyal whites of the South must be protected either with the ballot or bayonet Choose ye between the two. For my part I would much prefer to stand with the negro at the ballot box than to stand with him before the cannon's blazing mouth

SECRETARY MCCULLOCH.—The policy of contracting the currency has met with determined opposition in all parts of the country, and particularly in the west The Chicago Tribune combats the policy of the Secretary in this manner

The Secretary of the Treasury is now actively lobbying, with Congressmen against any material or useful reduction of the burdens of internal taxation He says that the Treasury cannot spare the taxes proposed to be repealed Why can't it? Because the receipts are rapidly falling off. Why are the receipts decreasing? Simply because the Secretary has inaugurated a pestiferous policy of currency contraction which has the effect on the body politic that drawing blood has on the physical body It is weakening, and paralyzing the industry of the country Production is falling off manufactories are shutting work or stopping altogether The banks are contracting their discounts and business is being seriously injured all over the Union East West North and South

The pool of politics in California is again beginning to bubble There are, of course numerous aspirants in both parties for the various offices The Republican party will be a unit this year Two years ago it was divided, one branch of it being known as the "long hairs" and the other as the "short hairs" This ominous dispute having ended the party will no doubt be firmly united in support of a single ticket at the coming election.

Late cable dispatch stated that a proposition to canonize Columbus was being considered at Rome Who knows but Galileo will also be placed in the catalogue of saints by orders from the Vatican?

THE NATIONAL BANKS.—The Controller of the Currency has received from fifteen hundred quarterly reports of national banks for the quarter ending the 7th inst An examination of them shows that the banks generally are in a remarkably good condition Almost every dollar of available funds is loaned or invested in paper and into this all the deposits are extremely large About half the banks have declared semi annual dividends of five, six, eight ten and some as high as fifteen per cent besides carrying from ten to twenty per cent of net profits to the surplus fund In regard to the lawful money reserves of the national banks the amount now held is sufficient with very few exceptions all wing them the privilege heretofore extended of including, compound interest notes as a reserve for all purposes of circulation as well as deposits but sent us objections arising, to the holding of compound interest notes for circulation, besides the absolute prohibition contained in the law authorizing the issue of such notes the Comptroller has called the attention of the banks to the necessity of keeping the legal tenders on hand to protect their circulation, and is requiring a strict compliance with the law in this respect Another significant fact in connection with this subject is that the banks are holding a largely increased amount of specie as compared with that reported before the fall no doubt owing to the fact that as the temptation of high premium on gold is not so great as formerly the coin interest on bonds is retained instead of being immediately sold The old circulation in most of the States, which was assumed by the National Banks on their conversion from the State system, is now being reduced to a very small amount, and a large portion of that now out-standing is probably lost or in some manner destroyed so that it would not be considered as outstanding circulation This is a fact worthy of consideration of bankers and business men generally especially when it is stated that not more than a year ago the outstanding State circulation which was subject to redemption by the National Banks, exceeded $30 000,000

THE TRUE SENTIMENT.—C D Drake the newly elected Senator from Missouri recently delivered an address to both branches of the Legislature of that State, which was replete with the genuine loyal sentiment and patriotic fervor In commenting upon what he had done by the war he referred to what remains to be done in the following truthful and forcible language

The spirit of rebellion must be broken and exterminated, and the spirit of loyalty—radical loyalty—fostered encouraged educated and strength ened everlastingly against future insult us and treacherous influences, which, because the thunders of battle are no more heard, would lull into the slumbers of inglorious indifference and fatal repose In official action I will not, nor will I let go any lawful hold that can be taken of them I will do nothing in revenge or for insult or but to the farthest and latest reach of my voice and vote rebellion shall be made to feel that the day is past never to return when they can hope to rule this land, or shape its destiny, its policy, or its thought To carry this out in its integrity, this whole country must be made a stranger to the power of oligarchy and the influence of caste based on the color of the skin with which the great creator has clothed his creatures A man whatever his color, must be held to be a man, everywhere under all circumstances, to every intent but re every tribunal, and this nation must, to the utmost limit of its rightful power, guarantee his manhood a right to him, whenever would rob him of them, or under whatever pretext the robbery is perpetrate or threatened Without that, he cannot be really free, nor can the nation be call As to gas he is disfranchised, the nation carries within itself a magazine of oppression and wrong which, as sure as human rights are a reality, will one day explode and shake it to its center When over an I however the subject may properly come up, I will demand and uphold impartial suffrage by which I mean suffrage for the black man precisely the same terms as for the white man If more be required of him to entitle him to vote there is, there can be no other possible reason for it than that God made him black and I will not stamp aloud a work to him with any badge of degradation and contempt, which the aristocratic pride and unreasoning prejudices or the wicked ingenuity of men may desire To secure the great ends of negro enfranchisement I will take no by paths nor will I enter into any bargains who it may, in any possible degree, weaken the healthful power of radicalism in the nation Least of all will I give for it the enfranchisement of rebels If it is right to make the negro a voter, let it be done because it is right, not as a swap with rebels We swapped bullets with them for four years, and they got considerably the worst of the bargain, I do not now propose to swap ballots with them, for in that dicker we should be sure to lose.

ANDY JOHNSON WHIPPED BY THAD STEVENS.—The Madison correspondent of the Janesville Gazette says

The eagle, Andy Johnson got a severe whipping to day from a rooster that was presented to his keeper He turned it into the eagle along with a fine fat pullet The eagle at once made for the rooster, when he slipped between the eagle's legs, and getting behind him jumped on the back of his neck and began spurring him so fiercely that had the rooster been gaffed he would have quickly finished the eagle As it was, he piteously screamed, and the game rooster, jumping to the ground saluted the bystanders and the humbled giant with a lusty crow They say the rooster is a fighting one from your city, and on hearing the news out I at once went to the scene of the fight, where I saw the eagle cowering in a corner and the rooster flapping his wings and in the presence of an enthusiastic crowd, dubbed the plucky victor, 'Thad Stevens'" by which name he will hereafter be known while keeping his huge and trained assailant in check

TOTAL ABOLITION OF THE GOVERNMENT.—The New York Herald, of January 16th, says "Mr Sherman, of Ohio, presented a petition in the Senate on Tuesday, asking Congress to prohibit any person addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors from holding office under the United States Government. If this law were to pass it would be equivalent to dissolution, for we would not have a soul to administer or execute the functions of Government, and, on the ground, we are most decidedly against Mr Sherman's proposal'

SUCCESSFUL LUNDARY.—STOWELL, CHAMBERLAIN & Co's SAFE-BLOWS OPEN and ROBBED —Our town was startled on Friday morning by the discovery of a great burglary in the Banking Office of Messrs Stowell Chamberlain & Co The safe was a double one made by Lewis Tillie & Son of the largest size weighing many thousand pounds The burglars obtained an entrance to the office by prying open one of the doors with a jimmy In the lower left hand corner of the right hand outer door of the safe which was two inches thick a hole was drilled through which powder was introduced It was blown open separating the outside from the bolts and almost completely wrecking the inner door The lower hinges of both doors were broken off They next attacked the inside safe which was two feet high extending the width and depth of the outside safe This safe was one and a half inches thick, made with falling doors They drilled on their left through the right hand door so nearly the same point they had on the outside safe through which powder was introduced This gave them access to the money and books and papers They left over $1,000 in silver which they carried off The larger portion of the booty was special deposits They also took valuable papers belonging to the firm bearing their right to gold and silver, also all the books they could find The watch left to cover by Mr Lillie of Portland was not touched by the burglar proof as it was laid upside down inside the safe with Lillie's business card upon the outside and inside doors No trace of the burglars has been discovered They came well prepared with jimmy, drills, gunpowder &c The clerk of the back office left here until twelve o'clock at night The explosion was heard about four in the morning, showing they were experienced hands in the work

CITY PROCEEDINGS.—The Common Council met Friday evening Feb 22d his Honor Mayor Holbrook in the Chair Present Councilmen Carter Carson Hallock Lownsdale O'Connor and Rossel elin

The Marshal informed the Council that Dr Wilcox the Clerk of the Council was sick, and would be unavoidably absent

The Mayor declared the election of a Clerk pro tem the first business in order

On motion of Mr Carson Mr Hallock was elected Clerk pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

COMMON ORDERS

A communication was received from John H Hawkes representing that he had filled the street on the west side of block 132 with dirt to the amount of 201 cubic yards and proposing to sell it to the city at the price of 30 cts per cubic yard. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property

A communication from Messrs Hanley & Co asking for the use of half the street at the N W corner of Front and Yamhill streets for building purposes On motion the privilege asked for was granted

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr Carter of the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses to whom was referred the petition of A H Alexander for the remission of a fine imposed on him in the Recorder's Court, made a minority report adversely to the petition the other members of the committee being absent The report was received as the report of the committee and adopted

Mr Carter under the same circumstances, made a report from the same committee in favor of allowing certain jurors fees in the case of the City vs Wm Franklin The report was received as the report of the Committee and adopted.

Mr Lownsdale from the Committee on Streets and Public Property reported an ordinance establishing grades of certain streets in North Portland The report was considered filed and the ordinance to come up in regular order

Mr O'Connor from the Committee on Landings and Wharves to whom was referred the petition of Messrs Parrish & Atkinson for lease of Salmon street between Front street and the river for a wharf and warehouse reported adversely to the petition The report was adopted.

CLAIM AGAINST THE CITY

The bill of Wm. Wilson for cleaning the street in front of Willamette Engine Co's House and 10 was presented and ordered paid.

READING OF ORDINANCES

An ordinance to establish the grade of streets in Couch's Addition, west of North Eleventh street was read first and second times.

The ordinance levying taxes to defray the expenses of the city government for the year 1867 came up for a third reading

Mr Lownsdale renewed his motion pending at last meeting, when this ordinance was postponed that this meeting, to amend by inserting a provision to raise the additional and special tax of one mill on the dollar to pay such claims as may exist against the River and Harbor Improvement fund

After a lengthy discussion in which Mr Hallock opposed the amendment and Mr Lownsdale favored it, Mr Lownsdale withdrew the amendment and offered another providing for a general tax of 4 mills instead of 4½ mills and an additional and special tax of one mill for the purpose specified above. The amendment was adopted

Mr Hallock then moved to amend by striking out "4 mills" and insert "4½ mills. Lost, 5 to 4

The ordinance being put upon its passage the yeas and nays were as follows

Yeas—Messrs Carter, Carson Lownsdale, O'Connor, Rosenheim—5.

Nays—Messrs. Hallock and Zeller—2:

So the ordinance passed.

The ordinance authorizing the appointment of Deputy Marshals and fixing their salaries was read third time and the question being upon its passage the yeas and nays were as follows

Yeas—Messrs Carter, Carson, Lownsdale, O'Connor and "4 mills"—5

Nays—Messrs. Hallock and Zeller—2.

So the ordinance passed.

The Council adjourned.

VARIOUS ITEMS.—The Register furnishes the subjoined items

Mr John S. Williams, for a long time clerk in the Adjutant General's office at this Post, has been appointed hospital steward Occidental Base Ball Club was organized at Vancouver this week The following officers were chosen E Freeman, President, Dan Leahy Vice-President W Armstrong, Secretary, W R Turnbull, Treasurer, R Finlayson, H O Morse and H H Sturm, Directors The club numbers 18 members

We are informed that Sister Philomena, Mother-General of the Sisters of Charity, is now at the House of Providence of this town She came recently from Montreal and is making a visit of inspection to all the missions on this coast where the Sisters are situated She is the head of the order on the continent of North America.

In connection the Sisters of Charity it appears that the amount of the orphans under the immediate care of the Sisters One Thomas Wilson was arrested on Thursday for an attempt to rob a discharged soldier named George on the night of the 20th inst. in the streets of this town The testimony against him showed that he sought to intimidate his victim, but failing in that, he followed him out of a saloon into the street and knocked him insensible with a billet of wood, and robbed him of his money. George happened to have no money on his person, except one dollar in silver, which he gave to Wilson. At this juncture Mr Goldbeck happened to come along and his assistance having been invoked, Wilson after making some threats desisted in making any attempts. Wilson was re-committed and is now safely lodged in jail to await further proceedings against him in the District Court upon a charge of highway robbery Wilson is a desperate character, and a fugitive from justice in Idaho, where he killed a Chinaman last September

CIRCUIT COURT.—SHATTUCK JUDGE.—In this court, Friday, Feb 22, the following proceedings were had

Henrietta A Harrison vs. John Harrison divorce granted to plaintiff, and leave given to re-assume her maiden name—Henrietta A Younglove

Thos Cully vs J W. Peters and Sarah E. Peters; action to recover $1 312 25 coin, and to foreclose mortgage of block H in Couch's Addition to city of Portland; judgment for plaintiff and decree for foreclosure and sale.

E J Northrup & Co. vs John Bonser order and decree of foreclosure of mechanic's lien and for sale of lots 1, 2 and 3 in block 14, additional block 14 in Wheeler's Addition to East Portland, and judgment for $145

Henry Martin vs. Chauncey Ball verdict of jury for $150.

State of Oregon vs. Richard Smith; indictment presented against defendant of the crime of larceny in a house.

State of Oregon vs. Julius Lang; new trial granted.

State of Oregon vs. John Brashard, indictment presented by grand jury, against defendant of an assault and battery upon Ada Phillips

TROUBLE IN COURT.—On Friday the 22d, John Brashard was charged with an assault with intent to kill Ada Phillips. The examination proved a dangerous assault and battery upon Ada Phillips and a negro employed about her house and that the accused drew a derringer and tried to use it, being prevented only by the determined defence made by the assaulted parties. He was ejected from the house, after the pistol had been wrenched away from him but not satisfied to own himself defeated in his ruffianly attack, he effected a second entrance thro' a window By this time the officers were close upon the premises and he had no further opportunity to display his San Francisco prowess. The Recorder thought his peculiar accommodation had been sufficiently displayed, and held him to answer before the grand jury

THE COLUMBIA ROUTE TO IDAHO.—The Vancouver Register says on this question "A determined effort will be made this summer to secure the Idaho and Montana trade for the Columbia river route We are assured upon pretty good authority that freight from San Francisco to Portland will be reduced to one dollar per ton the O S N Co. will reduce the price on freight on that line and by changing or regulating the times of departure of the different steamers stages, etc the trip will be made in much less time and at less cost than a trip over the Ohio route

POLICE.—The Washington Guards Captain Charles S Mills, and the Zouave Cadets, Captain W S. Snodgrass, were out on parade and for drill, yesterday afternoon They attracted a good deal of attention as they marched through the streets. The precision of drill was not what would be expected of a professional soldier but consider ing that the companies were composed altogether of volunteer citizens, their movements reflected decided credit upon both officers and men

SHIPMENT TO OLYMPIA.—If there is any town or market on this northern coast, to which Messrs. Eveilling & Eccles do not send Oregon produce, we do not know where it can be located So using the opportunity offered by the New World bound hence for Olympia, they yesterday sent a half bbls prime butter 3 half bbls salmon 1 bbl do, 5 half bbls lard, 5 quarters bacon and 200 gunnies oats amounting to 12,432 lbs.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.—We noticed yesterday a large pile of Oregon manufactured wooden goods in the shop of J W Cook to be baled and sent up the Columbia via Umatilla to Idaho The goods consisted mostly of tubs, churns and overshoes, manufactured for Fleischner & Co. of Eagle Mills flannel This is the pioneer shipment from this valley to Idaho for the year 1867

THE BALL LAST NIGHT.—The Washington Guard's ball last evening was numerously attended and up to the time of our going to press the gay and festive throng seemed to be enjoying themselves highly The Guards never fail, when they give a party to make it a happy one and we know by peculiar demonstration that this was no exception to their general rule

LUMBER FROM MAINE.—The Montana yesterday discharged about four thousand feet of oak and ash lumber from Portland, Maine, for Mr J H Pree of this city It was brought from the mills thirty miles by rail, and then by water to Boston whence it was shipped around the Horn to San Francisco. It was saved in 1865 and has been something over seven months on shipboard

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—Our readers will have noticed the announcement of the concert on the first of March by the Portland Philharmonic Society Among the names of the performers announced we recognize some of the very best musical talent in the city and we have no doubt it at the concert will prove an unusually pleasing entertainment.

BROKEN UP.—The recruiting officer in this city has been broken up and the soldier boys either detailed on other special duty or sent back to their companies The soldiers connected with this station have made many friends among our citizens, by their steady temperate habits Two or three of them we believe, have held high offices in the order of Good Templars

A LARGE DROVE.—Yesterday a drove of over 300 calves yearlings and two year old cattle passed along Front street to the O S N Co's wharf, for the purpose of being put on steamer to the Dalles They belong to a Mr Curtis who lives a few miles beyond the Dalles They were purchased in Polk county for about the average of ten dollars per head

HEAVY FREIGHT.—The O S N Co's vessels had more freight than it usually for the Upper Columbia than it has had at any time since last fall The greater part of it is destined for Umatilla storehouses for it is actually reported on Wall Wa a and other points A special boat will be sent up to-day to clear it off

A HARD FREEZE.—Passengers from the Dalles yesterday report that Thursday night was the coldest of the winter Ice forming to considerable thickness A furious snow storm was raging when the Dalles boat left yesterday morning

FROM THE CASCADES.—The Oneonta arrived yesterday afternoon with about twenty passengers A heavy snow storm was prevailing at the Cascades and the steamer did not pass out off the river Vancouver

THE MINSTRELS.—We understand that the Tamme Troupe will present to night an extra good bill though we are not informed as to particulars Go and see for yourselves it is worth the money anyhow

DIVINE SERVICES.—Mr C C Anderson Pastor of the Baptist Church late from New York will preach in the Lecture Room of the Church next Sabbath at 10½ o clock A M and 7 P M

WILLAMETTE FURNACE.—Arrived per Alert Feb 23d 447 boxes apples 12 half bbls produce 9 cases lard 1 lot of feed 1 keg 2,240 sks flour 1 box dried apples 5 bales woolen goods 2 rolls leather

SHIPMENT OF STOCK.—The Julia went to the Cascades yesterday with a drove of 800 sheep. They are to be sent to Walla Walla

AT TOPMAST.—Quite a large number of flags were flying at topmast yesterday in this city in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Washington.

CLOTHING.—Barman Bros. will remove their fine stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods into the City of Paris Store this day Clothing sales hours from 6 o clock A M to 9 o clock P M after to-day

MOTHERS MOTHERS, MOTHERS.—Don't fail to procure Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for all diseases incident to the period of teething in children It relieves the child from pain cures wind colic regulates the bowels and by giving relief and health to the child gives rest to the mother Thirty five cents a bottle It stotter Smith & Dean Agents for the Pacific coast

Critical State of Affairs at the Ottoman Empire.

Vienna (Dec. 30) correspondence London Times:

The troubles of Turkey are beginning to excite serious apprehension. The Serbs are determined to insist on the demands they have made for the withdrawal of the Turkish garrison from Servia; and the recognition of the hereditary title of their Hospodar, and are preparing to support their demands, if necessary, by force of arms. At Belgrade, the National Guard has been embodied, and has, during the last week, been doing garrison duty in the city and at the palace of Hospodar. The citadel is garrisoned by the Turks. The students are forming an armed legion. The Serbes carry arms and are well-trained in their use, and, according to the organization of 1854, the country can, on short notice, put in the field 28,000 infantry, 6,000 cavalry, 8,000 artillery, with 150 guns. The army it is said, can be easily increased to 120,000, but this would probably include every able bodied man in the country, the population of which is little more than 1,000,000. The regular army consists of less than 10,000 men. The finances of Servia are flourishing, the revenue of the country is about 11,000,000f., more than half of which is raised by capitation tax. The income invariably exceeds the expenditure and there is no national debt; a loan is, however, said to be contemplated for war purposes. The state of the roads in east Europe renders it difficult to move troops during the winter, but the excitement throughout Servia is already so great that an outbreak may occur at any moment. A collision between Christians and Turks has already occured in Bulgaria, where, according to the Bandeer, a party of Musselmans attacked the monastery of Sielow on the road between Nikopolis and Rustchuck on the Danube. A sanguinary conflict ensued en grosses Bluttad—as the monks defended themselves bravely, and other Bulgarians hastened to assist their fellow Christians.—In European Turkey—leaving Roumania, where there are no Turks, out of the question—the proportion of Christians to Musselmans is three to two, and with the exception of half a million of Roman Catholics, who hate the Greek Catholics more than the Turks, they are all ripe for a revolt, and if an insurrection should break out simultaneously all over the country the Turks will find it very difficult to deal with. The present effective strength of the regular Turkish army—the Nizam—is at the utmost 180,000 men, all branches of the service included. These are well armed with muzzle loading muskets; the "Redif," or reserve, consists of 100,000 men; is badly armed, and as yet not even thoroughly organized.

It must be very unwelcome to the rest of Europe to find affairs coming to a climax in Turkey just at present, as no one is prepared to take part in the imbroglio. Russia, engaged with internal reforms, with her army on an unusually low peace footing and her finances in disorder, has not yet recovered from the effects of the late war, and at any rate must have at least one line of railroad open to the Black Sea before she can again interfere safely in the affairs of Turkey. The Romans, who might influence the scale considerably, seem resolved to hold aloof. They are not a warlike race, and have already obtained all they desire for themselves from the Turks. At present all their energies, and they are not great, are engaged in developing the resources of the country, and to take an active part in a struggle which may last for years would ruin them financially. The Roumans have already incurred a heavy debt, chiefly to defray the expense of the enfranchisement of the peasantry and the indemnification for the suppression of monasteries, both of which measures are being effected under more equitable arrangements between the parties concerned than in other countries. Their last loan of eighteen and a half million of francs could only be obtained under the most onerous conditions. They have to pay more than 18 per cent. for the money, and the lenders, H. Oppenhim, Nephew & Co., in Egypt, and Os Planat, in Paris, are not only to have the preference in case of a future loan being raised, but the Romans have engaged, also, to make no further loan till this one shall have been repaid. In the event of a civil war, the Christians in Turkey may depend upon having the good wishes of their co-religionists in Roumania, but they cannot count upon any active assistance. If Austria still possessed her former prestige and power, her geographical position alone would point her out as a natural arbiter in the approaching conflict, but the present state of the Empire will prevent Austria from interfering in the affairs of any of her neighbors without an imperitive necessity. Prussia has no real interest in the matter, and is too much engaged in consolidating her new power to desire any further complications in Europe. England and France are both anxious for peace. With the exception of Prussia, the armies of Europe are not yet armed with, and trained to the use of, the weapon with which future campaigns are to be decided; these armies, besides, are not being reorganized. Every man on the Continent is to be made a trained soldier, and it will take years to carry out the new system. If they be fairly presumed, then, that—for the first year at least—the Christians and Musselmans in Turkey will be left to fight their battles without any foreign interference. Whether the threatening civil war will actually be waged, and with what result, depends mainly upon the settlement of the dispute now pending between Turkey and Servia. The Serbes will never be satisfied till they have been put on an equal footing with the Roumans, and the Turks seemed resolved to make no further concessions. Backed by Servia, the insurrections of the Christian subjects of Turkey—the Rayahs—will be very formidable; without that aid they will probably be quelled after a more or less protracted struggle, if they take place as all."

A Turkish Parliament.—So Turkey is to have some sort of a representative government. Our cable dispatches state that in addition to the emancipation of his Christian subjects from political disability, the Sultan has issued a call for the assembling of a Parliament. Dieing right is giving way in its last and strongest citadels to the irresistible spirit of the age, and even the "Commander of the Faithful" must yield some of his prerogatives as the successor of the prophet. A Turkish Parliament will be a curious affair no doubt, and its influence at first must be very small. But even if its members do nothing but talk, it will provide the cutting wedge for other reforms, and will have a powerful effect in the education of the people. The fact that Turkish funds had risen on the announcement of these concessions, shows the light in which they are regarded. The Sultan in this matter is following the Viceroy of Egypt, whose Parliament is now holding its first session.—S. F. Times.

Freak of Nature.—One of those extraordinary freaks of nature can now be witnessed by any person who will take the train from London Bridge to Horley Station. A living pig may be seen at Mr. Jennings's without a skin on it, the animal having adopted the course of throwing off its entire coat instead of hair, with hair and flesh, the latter nearly three inches thick. It is doing well, and the coat hangs on one of the trees adjoining the style. It is quite a curiosity, and may become the matter for future discussion at the Anthropological Society. The flesh is like good pork, fat and lean, and has no appearance of disease. In fact, he is a specimen greater, without a coat, and the new one is growing nicely. —London Star.

The New York Tribune publishes a statement of its income and expenses for the year 1866. The income was $909,417; the expenditures, $885,158—profits, $24,259. In 1865 the expenditures were but $646,107; the profits $170,429. Since then the paper has been enlarged and the costs of telegraphing, editorial help, composition and correspondence, has been increased by $98,016. The increase in advertising pay was over $57,000 for the year. In the last month of the year 1865, the revenue from this source was over $58,000.

A Sensible Movement.—The New York Herald says the Indiana Legislature has before it a bill to make "bolting" from either house, by any member, when a question is before it, a misdemeanor, punishable with one thousand dollars fine. This is a very sensible measure. Representatives are not elected for the purpose of running away to prevent legislation when they happen to be in a minority. But the bill is likely to be defeated by a "bolt" of the Democratic Senators, to prevent its passage.

It is not in this country alone that ministers of the gospel enter the field of politics in their sermons. In Germany the practice is also spreading. A number of sermons have just been published preached by Protestant ministers and Hebrew Rabbis, on the occasion of the peace ceremonies on the 11th of November, 1866, in Electoral Hesse. They one and all speak more or less harshly of the forcible change of the old order of things, and deprecate the loss of their independence as a sovereign State.

A great effort will be made in the Illinois Legislature to ensure the extension of the canal from Chicago to Rock Island. The estimated cost of enlargement and extension is four million dollars. Only sixty miles of new canal are needed to complete the connection, with a proposed feeder from Rock Island, from a point near Dixon. When this work is done barges can be loaded at any point on the Mississippi, and sent through direct to Chicago.

Twenty-five farms have been sold in one section of Alabama for the low price of one dollar per acre. A failure of crops caused creditors to force sales. One of the sales thus made was a plantation of six hundred acres for six hundred dollars. Before the war its owner possessed three hundred and fifty slaves and forty horses.

Kiss My Wife or Fight Me—An Occupatory Narrative.—There are few married men who are not averse so seeing their wives kissed, but an exchange relates the particulars of a case in which a newly-wedded benedict felt himself insulted because his wife wasn't kissed. The bridegroom in question was a stalwart young rustic, who was known as a formidable operator in a "free fight." His bride was a beautiful and blooming young country girl, only sixteen years of age, and the train were at a party, where a number of young folks were enjoying themselves in the good old-fashioned pawnplaying style. Every girl in the room was called out and kissed except B., the beautiful young bride aforesaid, and although there was not a youngster present who was not dying to taste her lips, they were restrained by the presence of her herculean husband, who stood regarding the party with a sullen look of dissatisfaction. They mistook the cause, however, for suddenly he expressed himself. Rolling up his sleeves he stepped into the middle of the room, and in a tone of voice that secured attention, said: "Gentlemen, I have been noticing how things have been going here for some time, and I ain't half satisfied. I don't want to raise a fuss, but" —"What's the matter John?" inquired half a dozen voices. "What do you mean?" Have we done anything to hurt your feelings? "Yes, you have; all of you have hurt my feelings, and I've just got this to say about it. Here's every girl in the room has been kissed nearly a dozen times a-piece, and there's my wife who I consider as likely as any of them, has not had one to-night; and I just tell you now, if she does not get as many kisses the balance of the night as any gal in the room, the man that slights her has got me to fight—that's all. Now go ahead with your plays." If Mrs. B. was slighted during the balance of the evening we do not know it. As for ourself, we know that John had no fault to find with us individually, for any neglect on our part.

The News Business in New York.—In a few years many of the newspapers have doubled or tripled their circulation; and the publication of books, pamphlets, etc., has grown even in greater proportion. One of the best indications of this extension is given by the trade of the great news companies which supply at wholesale the newsdealers and booksellers of the country, who in their turn supply the public with the various issues of the press.

In the year 1866, the trade in this city alone reached the figure of between five and six million dollars. The largest part of this business was done by a single house—the American News Company, whose receipts exceeded three million dollars, and with those of a branch house in the West, the aggregate was toward four millions.

The bundles made up and sent away daily average about two thousand. These go to all points of the compass. The heaviest percentage—say forty-five—is to the States about New York; the next heaviest—twenty-eight—to the Western States and Territories; the Eastern States receiving eighteen per cent, and the Southern States nine per cent. The sales of daily papers, each issue, are 41,000 copies; of weekly papers, each issue, 650,000; of monthlies, each issue, 295,000 copies; of dime publications, 225,000 copies. There is also a heavy trade in books. The cash receipts of the company in 1865 were $2,850,729 89; and for the year 1866, as already stated, over three million dollars. For the single item of wrapping paper and twine, the company paid in 1865, $12,772 51. The trade extends not only over the North and South American continent, but to Europe and Asia.

The increase of the news business has brought into the field another organization—the New York News Company, which goes into operation with fine prospects.

Murderous Assault.—A letter from Oak Point to the Vancouver Register states the following:

On the night of the 15th inst., a very aggravated assault was committed by a man named John Bedowish upon the person of a Mrs. Sherman, a married woman residing at that place. She happened to be outside of the house, when Bedowish approached her and knocked her down with a piece of wood, kicked her and threatened to kill her. Her screams procured the assistance of some men and she was brought into the house. It is feared that she has sustained serious internal injuries. She has had frequent convulsions every day and night since, and her life is considered in great danger. Bedowish was brought before Hon. A. S. Abernethy, J. P., who after examination and in default of bail, committed him to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

The Alton Telegraph, alluding to Gen. Frank Blair's recent appointment to the place made vacant by the death of General Curtis aptly says: "As it is a settled point that the Government is to support Mr. Blair in some form or other, he will probably do as little harm in the above position as any other in which he might be placed."

Ex-Governor Wickliffe, of Kentucky, who is now seventy-eight years old, and is in Baltimore under care of a physician for the cure of total blindness, declines to be a Democratic candidate for Governor in Kentucky.

Henry Anthony, of Providence, has given $500 toward the testimonial to William Lloyd Garrison.

The Diet at Troppau has unanimously declared against the introduction of the Jesuits into Austrian Silesia.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, P. M., }
Feb. 22, 1867. }

Our latest quotation of gold in New York was on the 19th, 137@136¾ closing at the latter figure. In San Francisco on the 19th, legal tenders were dull at 73¾ buying and 74 selling. The rates of exchange on the 16th, the latest advices we have, were, for coin drafts, 2¼ currency, 30 premium on gold; transfers, 1¾ premium. This is low considering the rate of sterling in New York: Bars were held at 855@860; silver do. par.

During the last week our local trade has been dull. The almost universal complaint among jobbers is that there is nothing doing and that, therefore, there are, really, no fixed prices. Transactions depend much upon individual necessities for money. We quote bacon 15c and lc lower, and extremely dull. Candles, Kelly's, lc higher. Lard, in bulk, lc lower; market rather full. Kerosene has advanced 10c on nearly all brands. Sugars are a little higher.

We quote a few paragraphs from the Financial and Commercial report of the Alta California of the 16th, showing the general condition of the San Francisco markets:

Money is in good supply at the reservoirs, but owing to the season of dull trade it does not circulate as freely as it will some weeks hence. Thanks to the liberal rains of large crops, there are more means than usual in the interior, and it is probable that this circumstance has produced a larger consumption of goods, reducing the stock of the country stores, and preparing the way for a more extended Spring business.

In general merchandise we notice no material change, although the demand is increasing, as might be expected in view of the light supplies in the interior and the greatly improved condition of the roads, facilitating transportation of goods to localities which have been for some weeks inaccessible. There is an upward tendency in prices for nearly all leading articles in the grocery line; sugars, both raw and refined. Sales of Hawaiian sugar at 10c., now held at 10½c.; some German crushed at full rates. Golden syrup, 66c. Coal oil has been active at an advance. There were sales of Pingree and Pease's oils to the extent of 2,800 cases at very full figures. We notice sales of 24,500 lb. Okhotsk codfish at 9@9½c., the latter for No. 1 dried slices the late rates. The approach of fleet imports an upward tendency to prices. A balance of importation of Costa Rica coffee brought 20c. Sales of "C. A." butter, ex-steamer Golden City, brought full figures. Coal oil and alcohol also sold at current rates. There were considerable sales of candles, here and in transit, for consumption, comprising 10,000 boxes Star & Wort's manufacture, 10c.; also, Grant's, which closed at 21½c. At auction, Messrs. Jones & Benedixen sold China and Japan teas. The latter was of superior quality, but, owing quite upon the present inactive state of the market, prices favored buyers to a great extent. Rice and matches brought about the usual rates.

The exports continue to embrace large quantities of breadstuffs, which were also active at this time last year in Australia, at higher prices than are now current. The value of merchandise exported since January 1st is double what it was for the corresponding period of 1866.

Fountain of Life!

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS arrive when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance.

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the annals of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been saved from their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real worth and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the thorough and public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test, and not been found wanting.

☞ Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made. If bridled they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

DISEASES OF THE EYES

to call at his office and be at once restored. Surgical operations SKILFULLY performed on the EYES for film, cataract, strabismus or cross eyes

Below are some of the many testimonials:

This is to certify that I, John R. Jolman, was blind for over nine years, and I tried all means of a cure, and many doctors, and all of no effect, and I spent all the means I had. Finally, I had to become a county charge, and when I was taken to Dr. G. W. Brown, and stated my case to him, and strictly true, he at once commenced to treat my eyes, and now I am well, and can attend all those that are suffering with diseases of the eyes to call on Dr. G. W. Brown. The reason why I do this is to let suffering humanity know where they can be cured.

STATE OF OREGON, Marion County, ss.—Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23d day of November, 1866.

SETH H. HAMMER, Notary Public.

This is to certify that my daughter was almost blind for over seven years, and was declared by other physicians without obtaining any relief, when finally I took her to Dr. G. W. Brown, who examined her case, and at once began to give her treatment, and her sight has been entirely restored. I make this to let those who are suffering with diseases of the eyes know where they can obtain a cure. It has been three years since her eyes were cured, and they are yet sound.

THOMAS LIVINGSTON,
Deer Creek Precinct, Douglas county, Oregon.

SALEM, July 24, 1866.

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months, and almost blind for one year and a half; I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit; I had almost given up hopes of ever seeing again, when fortunately I heard of Dr. G. W. Brown, and was induced to try him; he performed a surgical operation on my eyes, and gave no treatment. I soon began to recover, and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death, and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good. I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain.

GOOD GRUB AND PLENTY OF IT!

AT THE

Bennett House,

SALEM, OREGON.

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public, and ask a liberal share of patronage, in a good style as any house on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem. He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage.

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to all the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—in clean, tasty, plain and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His bar-room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers, periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort.

In short, he intends making an effort to please all who stop at the Bennett House. And he most respectfully requests his friends every where to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can get as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated, and properly cared for, and at reasonable figures, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,

L. JAY S. TURNEY.

N. B.—Furnished rooms, with or without board, by the day, week or month, at the Bennett; charges moderate. L. J. S. T.
